

FIG. 146.—Diagram illustrating the distribution of mustard-gas eschars, four weeks after exposure to strong concentration of mustard gas. The hatched area represents the lesions