

FIG. C9.—Bronchopneumonia causing death seven days after exposure to phosgene. The bronchial wall is necrotic and there is considerable hemorrhage in the pneumonic exudate. Lung is moderately edematous.