

FIG. 72.—Abscess from penetrating gunshot wound of left parietal and occipital lobes. There were no retained bone fragments. Note collapsed cyst cavity from which sterile bullet was removed. This is well separated from abscess, which was not discovered at operation