

FIG. 152.—Group of soldiers fitted with temporary peg legs. These were the appliances used before the development of the articulated foot appliance