

FIG. 171.—Exposure of median nerve in lower arm and upper forearm, showing its relation to the brachial artery and biceps; both artery and nerve are covered by the bicipital fascia. A Median nerve; B, brachial artery; C, branch to pronator teres; D, radial artery; E, bicipital fascia; F, internal intermuscular septum; G, ulnar nerve; H, medial epicondyle; I, deep fascia covering superficial flexors.