

Second American medical officers' course—third class, Army Sanitary School, March 3 to 16 1918—Continued

Time	Tuesday, Mar. 12	Wednesday, Mar. 13	Thursday, Mar. 14	Friday, Mar. 15	Saturday, Mar. 16
8.30 a. m.	Physical drill	Physical drill	Physical drill	Physical drill
9.00 a. m.	Breakfast	Breakfast	Breakfast	Breakfast	Breakfast
10 a. m.	Lecture: "Pathology of medical diseases"	10 to 10.30 a. m. Address and practical demonstration given to 100 enlisted of the R. A. M. C., with demonstration of first aid. D. M. S., First Army	Lecture: "Gas gangrene and wound infection"	Lecture: "Duties of regimental medical officers D. M. S., First Army"	Departure after inspection by D. M. S., First Army
11 a. m.	Practical demonstration: Triangular bandage and the use of the rifle splint	10.30 to 11.30 a. m. Lecture: "Evacuation of casualties from front line." By the commanding officer of a litter group, field ambulance	Booking for sick and wounded
12 noon	Lecture: "Trench fever"	11.30 to 12 noon Practical demonstrations: "Rechauffement." Lecture: "Dug-outs"	Lecture: "Skin diseases"	Lecture: "Gunshot wounds of chest"
1 p. m.	Lunch	Lunch	Lunch	Lunch
2 p. m.	Visit to Nos. 1 and 23 casualty cleaning stations	Visit and demonstration School of Cookery	Visit to Nos. 30 and 37, casualty cleaning stations	Résumé. Lecture
4.30 p. m.	Tea	Tea	Tea	Tea
5 p. m.	Discussion: Medical officers British Army on wound shock		Conference: Casualty cleaning station methods
8 p. m.	Officers' mess	Officers' mess	Officers' mess	Officers mess: farewell dinner to General Thompson, his staff, and British medical officers	