Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences (USUHS)

- The Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences is situated on the grounds of the world class Walter Reed National Military Medical Center in Bethesda, Maryland.
- Students at USU represent the amazing diversity of America and come from all geographic, socioeconomic, racial, ethnic, and cultural backgrounds.
- All students study tuition free and are paid a $64,000 or higher salary to train as future physicians and medical leaders.
- USU features an extensive year-round curriculum that focuses on medical science, disease prevention, health promotion, and leadership training that is nearly 700 hours longer than those found at other U.S. medical schools.
- Medical students enter the university as commissioned officers in one of the four uniformed services: Army, Navy, Air Force, or Public Health Service. No prior service is required for admission to USU.
- Upon completion of residency, graduates are promoted to the rank of O-3 and fulfill their seven-year service requirement
